ARGOONAUTAS

Sa tagal ni Imee na namamangka sa dalawang ilog ay tila sinusuka na siya ng magkaparehong kampo ng Marcos at Duterte.

Deserve niya yan pagkat yan ang napapala ng mga opurtunistang trapo kagaya niya.

Simple lang ang criteria ko sa pagboto:

- No to political dynasty
- No to convicted, ex-con or with pending legal case
- No to ‘laos’ na artista with no educational or political experience

Mayroon akong nabiling house and lot ng mga Villar sa Bulacan.

Bata pa ako noon kaya akala ko ay maaasahan ang brand nila kaya katangahan ko, nagtiwala ako sa kompanya kaya pinirmahan ko ang contract nang hindi ko navisit ang house and lot nung natapos.

Ayun, nung makita ko nung na turn over, tanggal ang lahat ng tiles at mga bintana. Ninakaw. Pati mga bakal sa kisame, sa lahat ng panig, tanggal. Ewan kung sinong kumulimbat.

Nagreklamo ako sa office ng real estate company nila pero napirmahan ko na raw kaya sorry na lang. nyeta, isang milyon din iyon mga 20 years ago na yata. Malaking halaga rin yun! At isa sa first real estate investment ko!!!

Hindi napakinabangan ang bahay. Ever. Bad investment para sa akin. Sino titira sa bahay na skeleton na lang??? Never na uli ako bumili ng anumang property ng pamilyang ito.

Yes, wala rin akong ibinotong Villar sa tanang buhay ko! At wala akong iboboto. Dahil business interest lang nila ang pinangangalagaan nila.

No to any politicians na may business interest. Nyeta. Kakapal.

Marcos drops Villar's name in Batangas sortie amid PrimeWater probe

IN FOCUS

- President Ferdinand 'Bongbong' Marcos Jr. skipped Las Piñas Rep. Camille Villar while introducing his senatorial candidates in a Batangas campaign sortie.

  This is the first time Marcos skipped the senatorial aspirant even when she is absent.

- The exclusion came days after the president ordered an investigation into PrimeWater, a Villar-owned company that is currently facing numerous complaints of poor service.

- Villar announced earlier that she would skip the said sortie, increasing speculations of the senatorial candidate leaving the Alyansa.

Giving proper credit from your sources:

Weeks ago, we found a YouTube channel that has two subchannels and a main channel with more than 400k subscribers, monetizing not only my content but from other archivists as well. Seeing my videos being monetized by other people is one of the reasons why I didn't share my archived content until last year. Other people are benefiting on the archivists' hard work.

I have reported the channel via the YouTube copyright matching tool and it took down the video. The channel owner sent me a ChatGPT generated email demanding me to retract the copyright strike. When another archivist found out that a lot of his content were used without permission, he also reported the channel as well. That strike not only took down the two subchannels but the main channel as well.

Then the owner of the channel pleaded us multiple times in the last two days to retract our copyright strike because according to him, that is the only source of income he had.

To be honest, I'm earning very little on this YouTube channel. Yes, it is monetized but it does not earn a lot of money that will make this my primary job. Restoring my content takes a lot of time and effort. Transferring analog tapes to digital format, remastering them so that other people can view and appreciate the so called "lost media" that we have in our archives takes a lot of time on our end.

Technically, the copyright of the content we have is still owned by the TV networks and/or the production companies that originally produced them, but please give us the proper credit since this content came from our personal collection or sourced from tapes that we purchased/recorded and scoured through. The original producers may not even have an existing copy of our content.

I'm reminding all content creators that if you want to re-use our archived material, please seek our permission first. Give us the proper courtesy. Madali naman kaming kausap. Give us a tag on the video's description or better, send us an email before you upload the re-used content.

Inside the South Tower

110
Access to roof
Two separate callers report trying to get to the roof but finding the doors locked.

105
About 9:15, a caller tells his wife there are about 200 people on this floor. Another caller tells his wife he is lying on the floor with about 15 others. It is difficult to breathe.

98
Aon Corp.
One desk from the windows, Marissa Panigrosso feels the heat from the blast as the first plane hits the north tower. It is "like an oven door." She evacuates before the second plane strikes.

93
Aon Corp.
Gregory Milanowycz, an insurance broker, calls his father. He and about 30 others are trapped in the northeast corner of the floor. "The elevators aren't working. The stairwell collapsed. We can't go up. We can't go down. We are stuck here."

84
Euro Brokers
About 50 of the company's 61 employees who die are on this trading floor when the plane hits.

78
Sky Lobby
After the north tower is hit, many in the south tower evacuate to the sky lobby to catch an express elevator. An announcement that the building is safe leaves many unsure whether to return to their offices or leave. Many die instantly when the second plane hits.

76
Stairwell A
An elevator crashes into the stairwell in this area, evacuees say, spewing debris, including large sections of the wall, into the passage. Several men prop up debris so that at least 18 people are able to slide through and escape.

THE PROPER ATTIRE INSIDE THE CHURCH

"The mystery of the Eucharist has found historical expression not only in the demand for the interior disposition of devotion but also in the outward forms meant to evoke and emphasize the grandeur of the event being celebrated (Ecclesia de Eucharistia, n. 49)."

The sacredness of the Eucharistic celebration urges all participants to dress, manifest the importance of what they are doing.

WOVEN BY TROPICAL CYCLONES

Tracks of Landfalling Tropical Cyclones in the Philippines (1964-2024) | Data from IBTrACS

According to PAGASA, the Philippines experiences around 8-9 tropical cyclone (bagyo) landfalls each year. The density of these land-crossing tropical cyclone tracks is evident in the regions of Luzon and Visayas, even without a map outline.

On average, 20 tropical cyclones (bagyo) form or enter the Philippine Area of Responsibility (PAR) annually, with about 8-9 making landfall. These landfalling cyclones, especially the intense ones, often leave significant destruction in their wake.

Over the past 50 years, the Philippine archipelago has been crossed by numerous tropical cyclones, ranging from minor tropical depressions to record-breaking super typhoons. The deadliest of these was Typhoon YOLANDA (international name: HAIYAN), which claimed over 6,200 lives when it crossed the central Philippines on November 8, 2013. It is also one of the strongest landfalling tropical cyclones in the country and globally, with 10-minute maximum sustained winds exceeding 117 knots (215 kilometers per hour) near the center at landfall in the Eastern Visayas region, as recorded by the Japan Meteorological Agency.

The density of land-crossing tropical cyclone tracks in Luzon and Visayas is notable even without a map outline. Although Mindanao is less frequently hit by tropical cyclones, it has experienced several, with Typhoon Pablo (international name: BOPHA) being the strongest when it crossed the island in December 2012.

It's important to remember that tropical cyclones don't need to directly cross a province to cause damage. There have been instances where the outer circulation of tropical cyclones or enhanced monsoons has triggered landslides and flooding.

Tropical Cyclone Intensity
(Based on PAGASA scale)

- Super Typhoon ≥185 km/h
- Typhoon 118-184 km/h
- Severe Tropical Storm 89-117 km/h
- Tropical Storm 62-88 km/h
- Tropical Depression ≤61 km/h

Kung peke ang suporta mo, baka peke rin ang prinsipyo mo.

Ganyang kasama at ka-desperado ang kampo ni Sara Duterte — gumagastos ng milyon para sa astroturfing, o ang paglikha ng pekeng grassroots support gamit ang AI-generated na estudyante, para lang palabasing suportado siya ng kabataan kahit alam nilang hindi totoo. Kung kailangan mong mandaya para mahalin ka ng taumbayan, malinaw pa sa sikat ng araw na manloloko ka at hindi ka dapat pagkatiwalaan.

Ang lala ng corruption sa panahon nya but her policies are good economically. Malalang nakawan lang talaga hence its still not a good presidency after all tama na ang another marcos nostalgia feel.

Ako ay nagpapasalamat sa mga bumoto sa akin. At ako din ay nagpapasalamat sa ating President-Elect Bongbong Marcos.
Meron kami napagkasunduan bago pa man kami naging Uniteam at hindi niya nakalimutan iyon, nung pinaalala ko sa kanya ng proclamation night, sagot niya, “Don’t worry, I’ll take care of it.”
Good vibes lang. We shall always and forever be the Uniteam.
